Tony is a partner at Kaufman & Canoles, where he is a member of the firm's Corporate and Public Finance Group and China Team. Tony has worked on a variety of initial public offerings, private placements, secondary offerings and shelf registrations for companies listed on the NASDAQ Stock Exchange and American Stock Exchange. In addition, he assists listed companies with meeting their SEC and market compliance responsibilities. Tony advises public and private companies on a variety of corporate matters, from mergers and acquisitions to general corporate governance.

Tony regularly assists Chinese companies that are listed on U.S. markets with their securities law obligations. As a member of the China Team, he has completed IPOs on the NASDAQ Capital Market for several companies headquartered in the PRC. In his spare time, Tony continues to practice his Mandarin.
