Morgan is an Associate in the firm's Norfolk office where her practice focuses on trust and estate matters and transfer and fiduciary taxation. Her estate planning work includes thinking through the complex intersection of family succession and tax planning to implement thoughtful and efficient estate plans for her clients. In addition to the planning component of trusts and estates, Morgan also assists clients and their families in the probate and administration of estates and the administration, modification, and termination of trusts. Morgan's estate litigation work involves fiduciary disputes and beneficiary representation.
