

SCOTT SEYMOUR

Years in practice: 30

Best known for: I'm known as a pragmatic tax lawyer, particularly in M&A.

Why I chose my practice area: I love solving the tax "puzzle" and prefer collaborative work over adversarial practice. Coming from a CPA background, I was intrigued by working on both numbers and legal terms.

Most memorable case: Serving as principal business counsel to a corporate group with operations in 40+ states through bankruptcy and ultimate sale.

What makes me a leader in my field: Staying knowledgeable about current law, listening humbly to others, being consistent and respectful with opposing counsel and agencies, dealing fairly and giving back through bar involvement and mentoring.

Bar involvement/leadership roles: Past chair, VSB Tax Section; board member, and CLE committee member; active ABA Tax Section member; adjunct tax instructor at William and Mary Law School; chair of firm's Business Tax Group
